

Shaping the World & Community We Want & Need

With so many issues facing us and needing solution and new levels of education and advocacy, and with more people facing poverty than ever...how do we decide when and how much to give now? Other issues still engage us: including our religious organizations/places of worship, economic security, violence, leadership development, employment training, the arts, immigration/migration, education, the aging of the population, technology, math and science, youth programming, animal welfare & species preservation, and community development and growth.

- a. How much will you give locally, nationally and globally?
- b. How are you feeling about your giving priorities now?
- c. What would you like your top three priorities to be now?
  - 1.
  - 2.
  - 3.
- d. What changes in your giving will you try to make? (What will you have to cut or really focus on to make a difference? Who will you mentor?)
- e. Could you give more of your time, talent or treasure?
- f. What personal changes in your spending, saving or not wasting could you make in order to support the nonprofits you care about?
- g. What is your commitment for the end of 2008:
- h. And for 2009:
